

Privacy Policy

HONEYERA | www.honeyera.com

Effective date: [Date of adoption]

This Privacy Policy explains how HONEYERA ("we," "us," or "our") collects, uses, and discloses personal information when you visit www.honeyera.com, use our services, purchase our products, or contact us. It also explains your choices and how to reach us.

Information we collect

Information you provide may include your name, email address, telephone number, billing and shipping addresses, order details, and messages or other information you send to customer support. If account registration is available, we may collect account credentials and preferences. Avoid sending sensitive personal information that we do not need.

When purchases are available through our services, payment information is processed by the payment provider used at checkout. We may receive transaction confirmations and information needed to manage orders, refunds, and customer service. The payment provider handles payment information according to its own privacy notice.

Our website and service providers may collect technical and usage information, including IP address, browser and device type, pages visited, referral sources, approximate location derived from IP address, and dates and times of visits. Cookies and similar technologies may support these activities as described below.

We may receive information from providers that support payments, delivery, customer service, and website operations. If you purchase through a third-party marketplace, we may receive the information that marketplace makes available for fulfillment or support. Its own privacy notice governs its collection practices.

How we use information

We use information to operate our website and services, process and deliver orders, respond to requests, handle returns and refunds, maintain business records, prevent fraud, protect our systems, and meet applicable obligations. We may use feedback and usage information to improve our products and services.

Where permitted, we may send product updates or promotional emails. You can unsubscribe using the link in a promotional email or contact support@honeyera.com. Service messages, such as order confirmations and responses to your requests, may continue.

How we disclose information

We may disclose information to providers that help operate our business, such as hosting, payment, delivery, customer support, email, and analytics providers. These disclosures support the purposes described in this policy and should be limited to information needed for the relevant service.

We may disclose information when required by law or when reasonably necessary to protect rights, safety, or security, investigate fraud, or respond to lawful requests. Information may also be transferred in connection with a merger, acquisition, financing, or sale of business assets, subject to applicable requirements.

We may disclose information at your direction or with your consent. Reviews or other content you choose to post publicly may be visible to others. Do not include information in public content that you wish to keep private.

Cookies and similar technologies

Cookies and similar technologies may remember preferences, support website functions, and help us understand website use. Depending on the services enabled, third parties may collect information about activity over time and across websites.

You can manage cookies through your browser settings. Blocking cookies may affect some website features. Where available, use the website cookie controls to manage optional technologies. A browser setting alone may not control all technologies or all previously collected information.

[Before publication, describe the actual analytics and advertising technologies used, whether data is sold or shared for targeted advertising, the available consent and opt-out controls, and how the website responds to Do Not Track and legally recognized opt-out preference signals such as Global Privacy Control. Do not claim these controls operate until verified.]

Retention and security

We retain personal information for as long as reasonably needed for the purposes described in this policy, including order fulfillment, support, business records, dispute resolution, and applicable obligations. Retention depends on the information involved, the purpose of processing, and relevant requirements. Information no longer needed should be deleted or deidentified, subject to necessary retention and backup cycles.

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational measures designed to protect personal information. No transmission or storage method is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

External websites

Our website may link to websites or services operated by others. Their privacy practices are governed by their own policies. Review those policies before providing personal information.

Your privacy choices and requests

You may contact support@honeyera.com to ask about your information or request access, correction, or deletion. Depending on your location and applicable law, you may also have rights to obtain a portable copy, restrict or object to processing, withdraw consent, or opt out of the sale or sharing of personal information or targeted advertising.

We will review requests and respond as required by applicable law. We may need to verify your identity and authority before acting. Some information may be retained where an exception applies. If applicable law allows an authorized agent, we may request proof of authorization. We do not discriminate against you for exercising applicable privacy rights.

If a request is denied and applicable law provides an appeal, email support@honeyera.com with the subject "Privacy Appeal." You may also have the right to complain to the relevant privacy authority.

International visitors

Your information may be processed in the United States or other countries where we or our providers operate. Those countries may have different privacy rules. Where required, appropriate safeguards must apply to international transfers.

Where European or UK data protection law applies, processing may rely on performing a contract, meeting legal obligations, consent, or legitimate interests, depending on the activity. You may contact us about the basis for a specific activity. Withdrawal of consent does not affect processing that occurred before withdrawal.

Children

Our website and services are intended for a general audience and are not directed to children under 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13. If you believe a child has provided personal information, contact support@honeyera.com so we can investigate and take appropriate action.

Changes to this policy

We may update this policy to reflect changes in our services or practices. We will post the revised policy and update its effective date. Where required, we will provide additional notice or obtain consent for material changes.

Publication review

This is a standard policy prepared for HONEYERA using the website and contact details provided. Actual website practices have not been verified. Before publication, confirm all collection, sharing, retention, security, and children statements; complete the effective date and tracking disclosure; and assess whether additional location-specific notices, a business address, or representatives are required.
